JAMES J. M. MISAJON

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

The year 1960 has been occasioned with great conferences of the Methodist Church which attempted to examine the responsibilities of Christendom in our world today and also to establish emphases to meet the rapidly changing and crucial need of all mankind. Although Methodism in Hawaii is a small segment of our connection, we give thanks to God that we have been able to share in this task. All of us have been inspired by the person and words of our Bishop Gerald Kennedy as he presided over the General Conference and the Council of Bishops of our Church. We believe that the selection of new episcopal leadership, the largest group in recent history, gives reason for new vision and vitality. Especially mindful are we for the esteem and confidence represented by the Northeastern Jurisdiction when our General Secretary, Dr. W. Vernon Middleton, was chosen for the episcopacy. Also are we mindful of the reorganization of the various Boards of Methodism, including the election of an outstanding layman, Mr. H. Conwell Snoke, to the position of General Secretary of the Division of National Missions of the Board of Missions. We would affirm the quadrennial emphasis and program of making real the words: "Jesus Christ is Lord", saluting the leaders and pledging our support of all the agencies of the Methodist Church. (We are privileged to have with us Dr. Charles Calkins, General Secretary of the Board of Pensions; Dr. John O. Gross, General Secretary, Division of Higher Education of the Board of Education; and Dr. Willis M. Tate, President of the Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas; and others.)

The various conferences and promotional assignments have taken your Superintendent away from the field and he is mindful of the neglect of his personal attention in the functions of his office. It is his hope that this condition will be improved. At the same time, he would like to express his thanks to the men in the Mission office in the persons of James Misajon, Lewis Lancaster and Robert McCullagh. These men, along with others, have spent many hours over and beyond their normal duties. I am fully convinced that the decisions of the Division in creating these positions within the last several years have meant the strengthening of our work.

While we are mindful of the limitations and also the advantages of administratively being a mission, we are appreciative of the encouragement given to our various boards, commissions, and committees to take a more direct responsibility in initiating and accomplishing various programs; and also of the directives as they come to us as Division policies. There are evidences in the various bodies, whose reports you will hear, which represents careful planning, evaluation and accomplishment. The desire on part of the Mission to discuss the next steps which will make us more autonomous and responsible than we are now as a mission is in the right direction. The specific actions, however, should follow further study and documentation. The time has come (perhaps over due) for most of our churches to be operationally self-supporting, including adequate salaries for our ministers and workers. The careful way in which many of our churches have increased their budgets, brought the matter of responsibilities and sacrificial stewardship is to be commended. How to meet the capital needs in the face of an abnormal economy has been faced earnestly by every congregation thus involved and by the Mission as a whole.

The careful attention and the personal concern of our Bishop for the members of the Mission is appreciated by all. The diligence with which the administrative details which seek to make for the security and comforts of the Mission personnel by Dr. Allen Rice, of the Division, has meant a great deal in the morale of all. The Mission should take into full account the proper stewardship of missionary funds, the budgetary considerations under which we must operate and its relationship to the total enterprise. We make recognition of the up-grading of the base salary and other increments in the last five years from World Service and Advance Special funds. It is the firm conviction of this office that everyone serving in the field does so under genuine missionary commitments. In certain situations, it is necessary that we have men with more experiences and skills than would have been adequate in appointments of comparable size on the Mainland. In view of changing and inflationary standards of living in Hawaii and the need for still higher quality of performance and leadership, it is important that each local church and the Division give careful attention to review and adjust the rather delicate concerns herein involved from time to time. We have been encouraged by the fine caliber of men who find here a sense of being on the growing edge where important things for God are in the making. We express appreciation to our Bishop and the Board for the helpful manner in which the challenge has been put to those who come to Hawaii from year to year.

Since our last Annual Meeting we have welcomed into our Mission Family the following: Rev. and Mrs. Jack W. Powell from Wisconsin to Aldersgate, Honolulu; Rev. and Mrs. William Buford from Arizona to Wahiawa, Oahu; Rev. and Mrs. Harold Singer from Wisconsin to Aiea, Oahu; Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Mix from New Jersey to Honokaa, Hawaii; Mrs. C. P. Goto, widow of the late Rev. Goto to Lahaina, Maui; Rev. S. W. Kim from Georgia to First Korean, Honolulu; Rev. Peter Lee from California to First Church, Honolulu; Miss Lois Reed from Texas to Palolo, Honolulu as DCE; Miss Loreeda Jones from Virginia to Harris Memorial Honolulu, D.C.E.; Miss Genevieve Poppe and Miss Beatrice Orrell to Susannah Wesley Community Center; and most recently Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bishop from Texas to the island of Hawaii (DCE for island), resident in Hilo, Hawaii. These persons come from all sections of the country and this means that churches from various areas have a living stake in our work. Although adjustments are not easy, we feel as though each is a member of the Mission family and have without much ado become a part of the local church and Mission. Before the year is over Rev. and Mrs. Jack Hedges and family, who finish their term, will return to Ohio from Kekaha, Kauai. Mr. Hedges came to the Kauai assignment as the person charged with the task of making our work, which was identified for many years as a Filipino church, into a community or inter-racial fellowship. He has given to our whole Methodism on Kauai an extended influence, and we wish him well as he returns from the field. Also Miss Martha Almon, deaconess of the W.D.C.S. and DCE at Parker, Kaaawa, and Kahaluu, finishes her term. She has been a devoted and tireless worker among the young and old alike, and greatly loved by all. We wish for her a well deserved rest prior to undertaking a new assignment. Your Superintendent and the whole Mission wishes to remember with sorrow and affection Mrs. Frances Lee who left our midst to return to her heavenly home last December. She was a wonderful partner in the ministry with Sam, a loving mother and daughter, and an inspiration to us all.

No matter how well our statistics may read in terms of comparisons with previous years . . . there is always a sense that we have not done as well as we should have done, in any appraisal of the work of the Church. And this is the way it should be because we can never do enough for Christ and His Kingdom. Despite the high turnover in the membership of First Methodist Church, Honolulu, we rejoice that her membership this year has passed the one thousand member mark, the first time in our Mission history. The same comparative advances can be said of several other churches. But, on the other hand, several of our churches have been standing still. Without minimizing the reasons, there is cause to believe that the church has not kept up with the needs of our growing population.

Over and beyond and perhaps underneath the need for becoming adequately organized and stabilized, there is a sense of urgency to get into homes and into the lives of those who need the gospel and the fellowship which makes it alive . . . the church. There have been noted groups of layman in prayer calls, fishermen's clubs, Bible study, section class meetings, and breakfast meetings which have been sharing the evangelistic concerns. Into every negative resignation which spells frustration because the response to the word seems slow, the church must seek to persistently make a bolder thrust to break some of the impasses. It seems indicative of the health of a church when a preacher can with candor discuss some of the trying problems he has had to face during the year; and yet be able to say that this year has been the best year in his ministry and in that of his church. There is no easy assignment in the Mission and the courage with which we struggle to improve and to expand our fellowship should always characterize our witness. It was Dr. Scherer who said: "Christianity that no longer propagates itself is not Christianity. The church that has lost its drive, has lost its charter." Measured by this kind of criteria the Church in Hawaii is alive. It appears that we are ready for a forward thrust in evangelism, and God willing, every layman, minister and worker should be challenged as never before.

In every part of our vast America there is expansion in every aspect of life. Many churches are being built and becoming a part of the scene. Without the churches this whole amazing civilization will degenerate and crumble before our eyes. The recognition of this fact causes us to take a sober look at what we are doing in church extension, here and everywhere. There is a fine line between adequate and inadequate facility; between what is worthy and unworthy in design and spirit of a structure where men shall worship God; between what is necessary and unnecessary and what is extravagant; between what the church must adventure to do beyond her present capacities and where she must consolidate and concentrate. The work of the church moves forward with the sacrificial and devoted spirit of her members which need the acumen and daring of business men, the imagination and exactness of the professional, and the ordinary common sense and integrity of the average man. It is evidence of vitality when a group of Christians get a hold of a job to attempt to provide a sanctuary or classrooms for a church and goes in to do more than they ever imagined they had it in them to do. This has been the story in many of our churches.

During the past year we record the completion of a Church School and Social Hall named after our friend, Dr. W. H. Fry, here at First Korean; the completion of a church plant in a wonderful new location of a completely newly planned village of Pahala, Hawaii; the beginning of a new congregation in an old building refurbished in Lihue, Kauai; the beginning of construction of Kilohana Church in a new subdivision in Niu Valley, Oahu; and the organization of a new congregation in Waimanalo, Oahu. Besides these projects there are in progress a major new Harris Memorial in the Queen Emma urban renewal project; an Educational Building much needed for Aldersgate in downtown Honolulu; a relocation and new plant for Kahuku, Oahu; a new educational unit in Lahaina, Maui; and a sanctuary in Hilo, Hawaii. These activities mean many hours of devoted endeavor, prayerful concern and sacrificial giving; and at the same time satisfaction and sense of accomplishment. We commend the leadership of the laymen, especially on Boards of Trustees and Building Committees. There was a time when most of the details were handled by the Division. Now it can be said that in our various churches we have men who can read blueprints, execute legal transactions, know realty, finance and construction responsibilities. Their contribution to the total enterprise has been significant. In the many and demanding requests that we have made of the Division we are indebted to Dr. Murphy and his Section for the careful attention and guidance; and we may say, in the wider and greater scope, that we may attribute to Dr. Murphy no small measure of leadership in Methodism's share in building churches for America.

Our heritage of social concern makes us unable to tolerate any influences which may jeopardize the common good. When matters of public morals, industrial strife, better housing, improved schools, racial discrimination, political corruption, gambling, drinking and other concerns are before us the church must be informed, articulate and undeviating in principles. The first conference on "Labor and Management Relations and the Church" put on by the General Board and the Mission was well received and a beginning in an important concern. The explorations for the need of a church related institution of higher learning marks a high venture which will require the combined efforts of all of us and should be a subject worthy of the concern of the total church. Dr. Dudley Ward and Dr. John O. Gross and their contribution to these two projects referred to is illustrative of the high statesmanship of the great boards of our church buttress each section of the church. I want to mention the name of Frank Butterworth, who heads the Public Affairs Committee of the Council of Churches and instrumental in organizing the citizen's committee, and that of Captain Roland Sagum, Chairman of the Mission's Commission on Christian Social Concerns, for their leadership in fighting the danger to public morals perpetrated by formidable syndicates' attempt to introduce pari-mutuel dog racing into Hawaii. Every Methodist Church stands resolutely against this and every form of gambling.

Our Christian Education program has been given a boost by the appointment of Lewis Lancaster as the Director for the Mission in this field. Along with him this past year we had the addition of four workers specially trained for this work. The large number of children and youth in our churches makes their services especially significant. The Commission on Education, chaired ably by Robert McCullagh, and its report you will hear, can pass careful scrutiny of standards and performance. In both evangelism and education, there is an effort to reevaluate and establish the uniquely missionary responsibility we have to our constituents, many of whom come from non-Christian backgrounds. The familiarity and acquaintance of Christian education problems and opportunities in the various mission and outpost fields makes James McGiffin an invaluable counsellor. We are glad to see him from time to time.

Our heritage of the evangelical spirit, the call to disciplined living, the concern to share the good news, find their source and inspiration as each congregation meets on Sunday to hear the word and to have the sacraments administered. We do not have uniformity of orders but we do have well planned, dignified yet alert and alive services. The preachers speak in differing accents and even tongues, but wherever it is reported they speak under compulsion and a sense of urgency. Many of the men take occasion to make the invitation each Sunday. It is not an uncommon experience to hear a fervent prayer offered in a language foreign to one and yet know that it reaches His throne of grace. Many of our congregations have felt the added lift to their experience of worship because there have been more people in attendance. The importance of preaching and the centrality of Church attendance is to be noted; and should be continually brought to the attention of our people.

In closing this report, as your superintendent he would like to share a growing sense among our people that our God, as he becomes alive in our Christ, has been good and gracious to us beyond any deserving of our own. The doctrine we call grace, which so many in our day have forgotten or never knew, is being restored and being preached and witnessed to with power. Men and women everywhere are awaiting, even if seemingly indifferent or defiant the good news of Jesus Christ. No more than anyone of us can fathom the meaning and purpose of our being without the grace that comes to us in Christ, so it is with everyone who knows not Him. And, as seriously as we would concern ourselves with His will for us, so earnest will be our witness.

In a sense we cannot escape the continuity with the past, and we should not attempt it. At the same time, the present and the future beckons us to rectify past errors, to do old tasks that still needs doing with new spirit, even to forget past accomplishments, however pleasing, in order that we may venture still new endeavors to fulfill His will for every new year, every new situation, every new generation. There is a tremendous job that needs to be done. The year ahead, the quadrennial strategy for Methodism, calls for the rededication, of every congregation, beginning with each and everyone of us. In some situations we do not see our way clear nor do we know what may befall us along the way. There will have to be more faith than we have demonstrated in the past. We rely upon our preachers to bring to their people the source of power which have no limits in Him; and upon our people to grow into the fullness of Christian responsibilities that we will dare to do the seemingly impossible things for God and our fellow man.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY S. KOMURO

ISLAND OF HAWAII

For this, the largest and youngest of the Hawaiian Islands, the year past has been a time of testing. Early in the year the village of Kapoho was ruined by volcanic eruption, and then on May 23, the city of Hilo sustained serious loss of life and property from the tsunami, or tidal wave. To add to this, every one of our four churches has undergone a change in pastorate, involving in some cases an interim period in which there was no resident pastor to supervise the work. Since all have entered the work between June and October, we are reporting also on the work of those who preceded us. Arthur Mix has succeeded Richard Peterson at Honokaa, Robert Fiske has followed Harold Cary at Hilo, Jacinto Runes replaced the curcuit rider, Serapio Afalla, serving in the Filipino dialects at Naalehu, Pahala, and Honokaa as well as B. T. MaKapagal at Lahaina, Maui, and Paul Billings followed W. L. Armstrong, Jr. at Pahala and Naalehu.

Like many of the churches of the Mission ours all began their services in a language other than English. The service of Brother Runes in three dialects of the Philippines is crucial in serving those among whom three of our churches began their work. This does not hinder but rather strengthens the witness to the inclusive nature of the church among all the ethnic groups of these communities.

In each of the churches is felt the present need to deepen and extend the understanding of the Christian commitment. Adult classes or study groups meeting on Sunday and in the week; and visitation, whether for stewardship or evangelism, present opportunities for growth in depth in the Christian life. Much needs to be done in family life programs; in helping increasing numbers of older people without family ties and young people without work opportunities; in struggling toward understanding the issues of inter-group and economic relationships. Then, there are the children, our richest harvest, whose nurture taxes our resources of leadership in each church. In dealing with these needs the present social fact of a decreasing population trend has always to be considered.

We welcome the coming of Mr. Sam Bishop as Director of Christian Education for the Island of Hawaii. We need the strength which he can bring to our youth programs, teacher training, and all aspects of Christian education. The possibility of a permanent camp site for the island encourages us. A week of observation schools led by our Mission Director, Rev. Lewis Lancaster, brought needed counsel to the workers of each church in planning ahead. A Big Island Commission on Education already functioning, makes possible cooperative planning as indicated by the coming Senior High Snow Camp on Mauna Kea in March and the Junior and Intermediate Camps set for Waipio Valley in the summer.

Pahala's new church was opened for worship on December 18 and the educational building is now in use. A Service of Consecration is planned for Sunday, March 5, and it is hoped that some of the visitors at this Annual Meeting may be present. Despite the complications involved in changing personnel, a beautiful and serviceable church plant has been constructed for this area. At Hilo, building plans, which had been carefully drawn up for a new church edifice, are temporarily halted as the demands of post-tsunami reconstruction have greatly increased the cost and unavailability of building contracts. In Honokaa the church presents an impressive need for more adequate educational facilities.

HONOKAA—A change in time schedule to permit Sunday Church School and Worship at the same hour was initiated at the close of the year. Already growth in attendance, decrease in transportation costs to the church, and an increase in parent responsibility and participation is resulting. An active MYF, strongest on the Island, sent a large delegation to the Senior Institute on Oahu last summer. Stewardship programs have improved understanding of and participation in the economic support of the church. Mission study of the text, "Stumbling Block", by the MYF and adults together in a series of Sunday evenings proved profitable. The growth in family life undergirded by Christian faith brings rich rewards to the meaning of the ministry.

HILO—The combined impact of natural catastrophes upon the community lend support both to conservative caution and to radical restudy of the purpose of the church. The most vital witness in the community to the inclusiveness of the faith is made through the varied membership of this church. Study groups and projects in lay stewardship meet with concerned response. The MYF is in process of reactivation. A monthly newsletter reaches all on the church rolls. The pastor directs some time to group work at Kulani Prison and participates actively in community and inter-church affairs in Hilo. Mission Festivals, Youth Rallies, and other Island-wide programs have been held here.

NAALEHU—Services in the Filipino dialect have been resumed and improvement noted in attendance at worship. Communion services have been conducted bilingually. A revised schedule of Sunday School and Worship will allow more time for the former. The Summer Service Team came for the fifth consecutive year assisting also in the holding of a Vacation Church School. Rev. S. G. Afalla served as pastor in charge from mid-April until his departure for Kauai in August. Better stewardship has resulted in an increase in self-support.

PAHALA—Much of the comment on Naalehu applies here as the two churches share pastoral leadership. The past year has been dominated by the building program and the concern which that brings. Stewardship problems forced the curtailment of some commitments toward the ongoing program. However, the obligations toward a loan of $15,000 have been reduced after a year and a half by nearly $5000. The new buildings are a great spur to the faith and enthusiasm of the people. A spirit of gratitude and responsibility is growing and gives promise of significant advances in the days to come.

An old hymn carries the refrain with the words, "Bringing in the sheaves." One, who watches day after day the truck loads of sugar cane dumped in front of a plantation mill for processing, may wonder at the diligence required of those who bring sugar to the tables of the world. The harvest of the good seed demands no less devotion to duty in bringing forth "fruit with patience." "In due season we shall reap, if we do not lose heart."

ISLAND OF KAUAI

PERSONNEL:

At the Fifty-fifth Annual Session of the Hawaii Mission of The Methodist Church three full time ministers were appointed to the three Methodist Churches on Kauai. In May Rev. Warren Thomas assumed the pastoral duties of the East Kauai Church; in August Rev. S. G. Afalla became pastor of the Kaumakani Church; and Rev. Jack Hedges was reappointed to Kekaha Church for his fifth year. With a full-time pastor in each church the ministry on Kauai has been greatly strengthened.

PROPERTY:

1. Negotiations are now being completed for the purchase of a parsonage in Lihue as a residence for the pastor of the East Kauai Church.
2. A parsonage has been rented in Hanapepe Heights for the Kaumakani pastor, and furniture has been purchased by the Division of National Missions.

3. Negotiations are under way for a long-term sublease between the Olokele Sugar Company and the Division of National Missions for the Kamakani Church property.

PROPERTY IMPROVEMENTS:

1. A showerhouse was built at Camp Kokee and many other improvements were made there (see Kokee report).
2. East Kauai:
 - a. completed payment on the organ
 - b. outdoor interior lighted bulletin board
 - c. car for the minister

Rich, Texas; Jane McKinley, Wisconsin; Judy Poinsett, Texas; Beth Robertson, Texas; Judy Lindgren, California; William McClain, Alabama; John Stonner, Missouri; Jack Rodgers, Texas; Richard Avedovech, Washington; and Richard Burgess, Indiana.

Also two people from Kauai who gave much of their time, Mr. Yoshiharu Ogata and Mr. Frank O'Grady.

Before the Easter Camp electricity will be installed by the Kauai Electric Company. This is another major step in making Camp Kokee more convenient and usable.

ISLAND OF MAUI

LAHAINA METHODIST CHURCH

The work at Lahaina is improving satisfactorily with church attendance, income, and youth activities all up. Sunday School attendance, however, declined about the same percentage as the public school enrollment.

The coming of Mrs. Umeno Goto and Reverend and Mrs. Jacinto Runes have put new life into both the "language" departments. Both have more than doubled their "language" service attendance. Reverend and Mrs. Runes come to Maui from the island of Hawaii every third week of the month, arriving a few days prior to the Sunday services and return to the Big Island the following Monday.

The pastor called on all member-seniors in high school to discuss with them and their parents Methodist-related colleges. A pre-school prayer group for high school students has been formed.

We have four more members than we did a year ago, though the population in the area has continued to decline. Increasing informal counseling contacts with non-church residents has brought the Christian witness into homes where it has not come before.

We are excited about the new educational building soon to be built on new land adjacent to the church (which is being purchased at about 5¢ per square foot). More than $13,000 on a $25,000 goal has been collected during one-half of the pledge period.

On the negative side is the loss of about 20 youth, all in their sophomore year now. This group was very active when intermediates.

We need some sort of cottage-style, small discussion groups to deepen the faith and Christian life of laymen. Also, to rethink evangelistic methods. Not enough of the basic contact work is done by laymen.

Progress toward self-support has been negligible. On the whole, we think the position of this church in this community is quite strong. Most people outside the church seem to think we are bigger and better than we are.

A big problem is how to keep the church growing and expanding in an area that is declining in population. The biggest problem is to decide precisely what God wants us to do in this community from day to day, week to week, and official board meeting to official board meeting. A great danger is the tendency to become a professional religious institution, a club, or managers or a labor union church. We find it difficult to be what the church of Jesus Christ should be in this community of Lahaina at this time with this leadership.

HONOLUA AND PUUKOLII METHODIST CHURCHES

Our church schools, worship services, weekday released time classes, vacation church schools, five MYF groups, board meetings and special activities have kept both of these churches much occupied throughout the year.

Both of our churches have met their financial obligations and Mission apportionments for the year, and have again subscribed workable budgets for the year of 1961. However, further analysis of every member's giving and the acceptance of more financial responsibility by their respective churches are imperative to put both churches on firmer financial basis.

The Japanese language groups have had their worship services, two Saturdays a month at Honolua and one Saturday a month at Puukolli, with much enthusiasm and better attendance with the coming of Mrs. Umeno Goto in September. She has been a source of much comfort and high morale since her arrival to work among the "language" groups.

Both of our churches, located a few miles from the new Kaanapali hotel development area, are anticipating the influx of tourists and personnel to be connected with this slowly developing undertaking. Otherwise, the local sugar and pineapple companies do very little or no hiring of new employees, so growth, population wise, from these two agencies is practically nil. Some of our member families and constituents have seen little or no future on the plantations and have moved to Oahu and to the Mainland. Our high school graduates leave the communities 100%. However, a great majority of these who have had contact with our church life have attached themselves to Methodist Churches on Oahu and on the Mainland. As an example, one of our girls, after attending school and working on the Mainland, married a high school teacher; and she and her husband are serving as leaders of the high school MYF group at the First Methodist Church in Ashland, Wisconsin.

If we could attribute any of the foregoing statements toward progress in God's work during the year, we must credit a major portion of that to the faithful laymen and laywomen of both these churches who have given much of their support and services in the undertakings of their respective churches.

In conclusion, while The Methodist Church is in a stronger position in the lives of the children, youth, young adults and "language" groups of these two churches today, much more could be done and needs to be done for the advancement of God's Kingdom in these two plantation communities.

Respectfully submitted,
REV. & MRS. JAMES Y. TERAUCHI

ISLAND OF OAHU

While the Neighbor Islands of our chain have been steadily decreasing in total population for the past decade, the island of Oahu has been mushrooming with new growth. Three million dollars per week in building permits have been issued in Greater Honolulu for the past three years: a payroll larger than that of the sugar industry of all the islands put together! Such growth has forced the Board of Church Locations and Buildings to recommend sites for new work, and has stimulated much construction and enlargement of program for existing churches. Furthermore, the construction of super-highways and the urban redevelopment program has wiped out the sites of former churches and completely changed their surrounding neighborhoods. The migration to the suburbs and into formerly rural areas has changed those parts of the island from sleepy villages to self-conscious communities in need of more community-center facilities. Therefore, the year 1960 was one of marked growth and progress for Oahu Methodist Churches.

Let us go for a drive around the Island and see what has been happening. We come first to Wesley Church, situated midway between town and Waikiki. Under the leadership of Rev. Shuichi Fujishiro this Church has continued to hold its constituency despite the fact that most of them live an increasing distance away from the Church—especially out Kaimuki way. The Church is, therefore, planning to relocate in Waialae-Kahala as soon as the site becomes available from the Bishop Estate. It will be within a block of the new Kaimuki YMCA. A search is now in progress for a new parsonage in that general area. Meanwhile, however, the Church wisely decided to repair the rotting floor and to make the existing building useful and worshipful "for the duration." This was done with a $5000 restoration job accomplished this year with the assistance of the Division of National Missions. Meanwhile, the building fund of $25,000, which was set as a goal in 1958, has been raised six months before the date set for its full payment.

Up in green Palolo Valley, the Palolo Community Methodist Church has had a year of enlargement in plant, in staff, and in program. In July a work team of young people from the First Methodist Church in Pasadena, California, worked with the Palolo MYFers in renovating the area for the Youth Lounge. July was also the month of arrival on the scene of Miss Lois Reed to become Palolo's Director of Christian Education, augmenting the leadership of the Rev. David Harada. Not only is the church school steadily reaching more families from non-Christian homes, but the Boy Scout Troop has become a real instrument of evangelism in an area which had begun to get a name for its high rate of juvenile delinquency. A new Explorer Post has been established as an adjunct to existing Scout Troop 6. The work has not been limited to youth, however, for this year saw the beginning of a woman's organization, known at present as "Hui Wahine!"

On the south coast of Oahu, where homes are multiplying in a score of beautiful subdivisions stretching from the Waialae Country Club to Kaiser's model community of Hawaii Kai, Methodism has planted a church which this year has shown a membership increase of 32%. Kilohana Church, located in Niu Valley right on the highway around the Island, is now rising just across from the new shopping center. The contract for buildings and equipment on this choice two acres by the sea is for an $85,000 chapel and educational unit. An enthusiastic charter membership of nearly 100 persons of all racial backgrounds has demonstrated their loyalty to Dr. Wesley H. Bransford by subscribing an expanded budget.

Just up the windward coast from Makapuu Point lies the village of Waimanalo. Until recently it was chiefly a settlement of Hawaiians, and had an agricultural base. But with Hawaii Kai "just around the corner" and with new roads projected into town from behind Koko Crater, Waimanalo is slated for development as center of the new "think" industries (electronics, etc.). With vision of its future, the near-neighbors at Kailua Community Church established a branch church school in Waimanalo, under the direction of the Rev. Ben F. Youngblood. Soon he was preaching there every Sunday, and hoping for the appointment of a full-time pastor next summer! A search for a site is under way, but they are meeting temporarily in the Waimanalo School cafeteria.

Kailua is Honolulu's fastest-growing suburb, and its Church is keeping pace with the growth. 164 new members were received this year—46 of them on profession of faith. Church School attendance soared to an average of 363 for the year. Attendance has increased so markedly that an 8:30 a.m. service of Holy Communion was established, and a Church School session for retarded children was begun as a community service. Negotiations were approved for enlarging the Church property and refurbishing plans for the 2-year old sanctuary are already formulated. The overtones of one of the largest pipe organs in the State were heard recently, and installation costs of over $6,000 were met for the most part without having to draw on Mission funds. Two children's choirs were organized with over 100 children now receiving instruction in the best Church music. The budget has expanded. A full-time custodian of grounds and buildings has been employed. The Rev. B. Rhodes Martin has faced a stupendous task in calling in this fast-growing community, and Ben Youngblood in reaching the youth that flock to the new high school across the street and the new YMCA down the block!

The opening of the new John H. Wilson Tunnel through the Koolau Range has brought Kaneohe within 15 minutes' (?) drive of downtown Honolulu. After eight years under the pastorate of the Rev. Paul B. Billings, who has built wisely and well one of the most beautiful churches in Hawaii, the Rev. Richard H. Peterson came to serve Parker Memorial Church in Kaneohe this year. Twenty-nine persons joined the Church on profession of faith. The Church School is thoroughly staffed and trained under the direction of Miss Martha D. Almon. The MYF was host to the Pau Hana Luau which closed the summer service projects. Missionary giving boosted by the Africa Festival to which this Church was the host for Windward Oahu. Top student body leaders in Castle High School have come from the Parker MYF.

Up the coast above Kaneohe a few miles lies the lovely farming area of Kahaluu. It is now being transformed into a suburb of Honolulu as new homes are rising amid the former taro patches. A new school is slated for construction opposite the Kahaluu Community Methodist Church. It was time to get ready for "progress," so the laymen renovated the old church building and the chicken-house-type barracks in preparation for the labors of the Pasadena Work Team who came in July. The latter painted the inside of the building and finished newly purchased chairs so there are now five nice classrooms. Laymen also landscaped the grounds of the lovely new parsonage. Negotiations are now under way for enlargement of the property in anticipation of community growth. The transfer of Dr. John G. Ross to the staff of First Church was a real blow to Kahaluu, but they are carrying on and looking forward to the coming of another full-time pastor this summer. Meanwhile, despite the small size of this rural church it continues to sponsor a fully-staffed branch Sunday School up the coast at Kaaawa, under the tutelage of Miss Martha Almon, Deaconess of the Woman's Division.

Kahuku, up in the canefields at the northeast end of the Island, has also seen a year of growth in both numbers and influence. The Rev. Jack C. Smith has used the Church as a lever to influence the moral standards of the entire community, since many leaders of community life are in our Church. A project to clean up the sale of smutty literature received cooperation thru the Community Council, PTA, etc. A Woman's Society of Christian Service has been organized, a Cub Scout Pack was formed for younger boys of this plantation town, and the MYF had one of the largest representations at camp this summer, 28. They sent $100 to refugee work in Hong Kong and conducted a UNICEF trick-or-treat project as well as a project for Hilo Tidal Wave Relief. Twenty-seven new members were received, attendance is up to 70 per week, and new property on the main highway has been secured upon which to relocate the Church. The former branch Sunday School at Sunset Beach had to close due to military families moving into the new Capehart Housing facilities near town. The Kahuku Church School has grown to an average attendance of 40.

On the opposite side of the Island, Waianae Church doubled its membership in 1960. The Rev. Calvin E. Holman from Southern California pinch-hit for James B. Friese while the latter enjoyed his furlough on the Mainland. Waianae has bright hopes for growth this year with the migration to leeward Oahu.

Despite a mid-year change of ministers and a month without a pastor, Wahiawa Church had the best year in its history. Eighty-five persons joined the Church. Two new branch Sunday Schools were established: one at Waipio and one at the old Korean Church in Wahiawa. The former added a weekly worship service, beginning last December. The laymen doubled the budget this year over last, and under the pastorate of the Rev. William A. Buford this Church has continued to minister to the Schofield Barracks folk, as well as to the scores of new families moving into Wahiawa Heights.

Our Church at Aiea reflects the changing currents in Hawaiian life since Statehood. Formerly a Church composed largely of Japanese this Church is now experiencing an influx of service families from Pearl Harbor and families of all racial backgrounds who have moved into the new housing projects breaking forth for miles around Aiea. At a recent WSCS "coffee", of the 20 women present, 19 were from various states and one from Canada! New residents are pouring into Capehart Housing, Moanalua, Halawa, Foster Village, Hickam Village, Manana Housing, Pearl City, Halawa Heights, and Aiea Heights. The integration of the local people and these "malahinis" is remarkable. While the Rev. Mason M. Willis is on furlough on the Mainland, a steady growth has been recorded under the preaching of the Rev. Harold W. Singer, while the Rev. Walter C. Jordan, Minister of Education, has worked with the Church School, the MYF, and the Scouts.

Back in Honolulu, great things are happening at the Aldersgate Methodist Church. With the aid of the Michigan Conferences a new parish hall and educational building has been planned for the lot adjoining the sanctuary. Approximately 2,500 boys and girls live within a radius of 2 blocks of this strategic Church in the inner city, adjoining Mayor Wright Housing. Several milestones were passed this year as an Ilocano-speaking pastor was brought to the staff in the person of the Rev. B. T. MaKapagal, a Minister of Youth was added part-time in the person of Glen Murray, a Church secretary was employed, and a Children's Club was formed to organize Saturday afternoon recreation for neighborhood children. Members of Aldersgate were sad to see the Rev. Floyd Zerbe and family leave for California last summer, but extended a royal aloha to the Rev. Jack W. Powell and his family. With a new staff, new buildings due to rise, and a prospect for urban renewal in the immediate area, the laymen of Aldersgate expect a continued growth in their Church. A "language" service at 9:30 on Sunday mornings has now augmented the 10:30 English-speaking service.

Harris Memorial Church has come triumphantly thru a most trying year in which they have worshipped in rented quarters in Mabel Smyth Auditorium and conducted Church School in three different borrowed buildings! The future is theirs, however, as the Queen Emma urban redevelopment project will soon bring in hundreds of new families. On Christmas morning ground was broken for the new site at the strategic corner of Vineyard and Nuuanu. The Rev. Shigeo Tanabe welcomed to his staff Miss Loreeda Jones as Director of Christian Education last summer, succeeding Miss Elizabeth Ho. The way this Church has held together thru years of disruption of program is a tribute to its laymen and its professional leadership.

This was a year of tragedy and of triumph for the First Korean Methodist Church of Honolulu. The tragedy came on the eve of Christmas, with the translation to the Courts of Light of our beloved Frances Lee, wife of the Rev. T. Samuel Lee. It was also a year of triumph for it saw added to the Church staff a long-needed assistant in the person of the Rev. S. W. Kim who arrived in the summer to begin work as Minister of Education. The new educational building also was dedicated, and with the demolition of the old Sunday School building the grounds lend new dignity to the Makiki District and its new apartment houses. A new feature in the program is an "appended service" in the Korean language following the English-speaking service. The MYF has recorded a splendid growth this year, and a Young Adult Fellowship was also established. Despite numerous deaths among the older members, the Church has forged ahead to a new high of 412 members.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Hawaii campus has an active membership of eighty students, and with its expanded program of mid-week study groups this year has attracted into active leadership a number of students who had no Christian background. The Rev. Robert P. McCullagh has steadfastly encouraged students to become active in the Church of their choice on weekends, and most of them have enriched the various Oahu churches.

This brings us back from our swing around the Island to our Mission Headquarters and the historic First Methodist Church of Honolulu. That Church passed two notable milestones this year: it passed the 1000 member mark before Christmas, and its 10:45 a.m. worship service is now being broadcast throughout the Islands every Sunday morning on radio KNDI. The pastoral staff was expanded to three full-time ministers this year: the Rev. Frank E. Butterworth now has extended arms in the persons of the Rev. Peter K. H. Lee, who arrived in July to become the Minister of Education the (first Oriental pastor to join the staff) and the Rev. John G. Ross who became Minister of Evangelism at the first of this year. Attendance averages 700 worshippers each week, and a notable increase has been apparent in the percentage of permanent residents, compared to the Church's former heavy transiency. Of the new members received during the year, one third came on profession faith. First Church strives to be a center of hospitality and a prophetic voice at the heart of America's mid-Pacific metropolis.

As Oahu grows, so our churches must grow and multiply. With gratitude to God for His guidance and strength and with confidence in the dedication of our laymen, our youth, and our parsonage families, we anticipate great things on the capitol island in the year ahead.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK E. BUTTERWORTH

BOARD OF CHURCH LOCATION AND BUILDING

During the past year the members of the Board of Church Location and Building have had the privilege and pleasure of watching the materialization and progress of the projects of our many churches, ranging all the way from modest renovations to complete new plants. These represented hopes and fears, joys and frustrations of many congregations and their leaders; but their faith in ultimate success is attested by the following progress report.

1. Aldersgate: An educational building, costing not more than $140,000, will be built on the present site. The local Church will raise $50,000.00, the Division will make a grant of $40,000.00, and the remaining $50,000.00 will be subscribed by the Detroit and Michigan Conferences through Advance Specials.
2. East Kauai: The Division has approved the purchase of a parsonage one mile from the Church for $26,200, including certain appliances and furnishings, to be available June, 1961.
3. First Korean: The new educational building is completed and was consecrated on August 7, 1960. The total cost, including furnishings, now stands at about $122,000.00.
4. Hilo Community: The Plans and Specifications for a new sanctuary are in the hands of the general contractors. It is hoped that the bids will not be too far off the available fund of $65,000.00 for this project.
5. Harris Memorial: The site in Queen Emma project has been purchased at approximately $310,000.00, and the ground breaking ceremony was held on Sunday, December 25, 1960. The actual construction is expected to begin sometime by the summer of 1961. The cost of this entirely new plant will be in the neighborhood of $750,000.00, including land.
6. Kahaluu: The present need is being met with remodeled structures, accomplished with over 250 manhours of volunteer work by its members, assisted by the Pasadena Work Team, at a cost of about $1200.00. This sum was raised entirely by the local Church. Negotiation is under way to purchase an adjacent lot, containing 28,140 square feet, to increase the Church's land holding to 1.193 acres. A problem to be considered in this purchase is the right-of-way easement which separates the two parcels.
7. Kahuku: Looking toward a future of greater service, the Church has sent to the Board a resolution requesting more permanent structures, including a new sanctuary and an offer to share in the cost. The Board has sent the resolution to the Division with its endorsement. Lease of new site fronting Kamehameha Highway consummated with Kahuku Plantation and Campbell Estate. Lease rental $2.50 per year.
8. Kilohana: The master plan for this new plant has been completed and the bids for the first increment, consisting of the chapel and six classrooms, have been received. The lowest bid is $78,368.00 and the construction is expected to begin immediately. Financing of project: Division $78,368.00 plus architectural fees; local Church $14,000.00.
9. Lahaina: The Plans and Specifications for the first unit, consisting of 8 classroom and a kindergarten and nursery are ready and bids will be called as soon as the site in question is settled. The State has approved the sale of additional land to the Church, but the price has yet to be determined.
10. Pahala: The construction of the new sanctuary and education unit have been completed and the opening service was held on December 18, 1960. Total cost: $67,919.
11. Wesley: Its Building Committee has selected an architect for a completely new plant on its new site in Waiālae-nui. This is expected to be available for construction around November 1, 1961. There is an authorization from the Division to purchase a new parsonage, not exceeding $25,000.00. The Committee has not been able so far to find anything in this range. The more realistic figure is nearer $35,000.00.
12. Camp Kailani: The Board has recommended that a competent architect be engaged to master-plan this very important area for an orderly development.
13. Hawaii Methodist Foundation, recommended last year, is now in process of being incorporated.
14. Camp Kokee: Bath house and craft shop completed with volunteer labor of the Methodist Student Movement Work Team last summer. Total cost $3,646.00, financed by the Division.

15. Kaumakani: Sublease rental of land from Olokele Plantation consummated. Papers now being executed by the Plantation.

The Board wishes to express a special word of appreciation to Dr. B. P. Murphy, Executive Secretary of the Section of Church Extension of the Division of National Missions, for his interest, concern and counsel; Mr. Paul D. Jones who serves the Board in an advisory capacity; Dr. Harry S. Komuro, Superintendent; and to the Rev. James J. M. Misajon, Business Manager, for serving as executive assistant coordinating and looking after the many details concerning the Board's business.

Announcement regarding approved major projects for 1961.

The Conference, upon the recommendation of the Board, voted approval of the following major projects for 1961.

1. Aldersgate—Educational unit, estimated cost $140,000.
2. Harris Memorial—Complete new plant, estimated cost $750,000 (land & buildings).
3. Wesley—Relocation to Waialae-nui, new plant and new parsonage.
4. Lahaina—Educational unit, estimated cost $60,000 (land & building).
5. Camp Kailani—New fence, estimated cost $4,000.
6. New Work—Waimanalo Church.
7. There are numerous projects before the Board for action. Due to lack of information and inadequate finance action on these is being held in abeyance.

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

Highways and byways to Methodist Churches of Oahu, from the cane fields of Kahuku to the green mountain slopes of Palolo Valley, are now familiar to members of the Board of Lay Activities. In planning the program for the past year the Board decided to hold the regular business meetings at a different church of the Mission each month. Starting with the February meeting at the Wahiawa Church we visited ten of the Methodist Churches on the Island of Oahu. As superficial and brief as these visits seemed to be, it is the general consensus of opinion of the Laymen who participated in them that they achieved a much greater understanding of the work being done and some of the problems that the individual churches in the Mission have to face.

The Vice President and Program chairman of the Board, Robert Dillon of Wahiawa, and the men on his committee did an outstanding job in their planning, not only for these meetings each month, but especially for the Church Officer's training retreat held at the First Korean Church in January 1961. Added interest and value was injected into the regular monthly meetings by devoting part of each session to general discussion and exchange of ideas on one pre-determined topic of concern to all the church representatives. The Church and Community Relations, Laymen's Day Program, Pastoral Relations, Church Attendance, and Every Member Canvass were a few of the topics that were taken up.

The Board feels that in our activities of the past year we have taken an important step toward carrying out the objectives outlined in our revised constitution. In brief to deepen the spiritual life of lay members of the churches, to promote and improve programs for Stewardship, Lay speaking, Finance, Methodist Men, World Service, and the Church Lay Leaders. Remarks of Lay Leaders and representatives indicated that they have gained real help in the form of practical ideas and methods for improving their programs in the local churches by taking part in these monthly discussion meetings.

Of course we can not say that all of our meetings were devoted entirely to business. We will not soon forget the delicious steaks served by the Methodist Men's Club of First Church at the Annual Laymen's Barbecue on Friday, March 18, 1960, or the inspiring message delivered by the speaker that evening, Dr. W. Vernon Middleton. The special collection taken up at this dinner amounted to $90.60 and this was turned over to the Wesley Foundation Scholarship Fund.

On July 28th, the Mid-Year Laymen's dinner was held at Parker Memorial Church in Kaneohe. The Men's Club of that church served 130 laymen and ministers from the Methodist Churches on Oahu and representatives to the Mid-Year Conference from other islands. Dr. Arthur Loo, a layman from Lihue, Kauai, gave a report on the Western Jurisdictional Conference at San Jose, California, at which he served as lay delegate from Hawaii. Dr. Harry S. Komuro gave a brief report on his trip to the General Conference in Denver. Afterward, our guest speaker, Dr. Calvin Holman spoke on "Limit to Love". Everyone enjoyed this inspiring message.

The Board was sorry to lose Clarence Misajon as a member and hard working secretary in July, when his work made it necessary for him to move to California. Our good wishes and prayers go with him for his continued success and happiness. We were twice blest, however, for the secretary's duties were most efficiently picked up and carried on for the balance of the year by Mr. Walter Higa of Harris Memorial Church.

The year's activities were rounded out by the Training Retreat for Commission Chairmen, Lay Leaders and Presidents of Men's Clubs held at the First Korean Methodist Church on January 8th. This retreat was jointly sponsored by the Board of Lay Activities and the Hawaii Mission of the Methodist Church. The nine areas of church leadership were covered in separate classes conducted by qualified laymen from Methodist Churches on Oahu. At least one minister was present in each class to act as a resource person during discussion periods. Approximately 90 elected officers from thirteen Churches attended the retreat for the knowledge that was made available to them, in discussion and printed pamphlets, pertaining to their particular field of concern in the local church.

The Board wishes to express its appreciation and thanks for the time and help given by ministers and laymen of the Mission, not only at this training meeting but also at the regular meetings held in their churches during the year. Without their help the interesting and informative programs that we had would not have been possible.

There have been many suggestions submitted for improving the service and value of the Board; and these will be incorporated, in so far as possible, in the programs for the year ahead. Under the leadership of the outstanding slate of officers who have been elected for 1961, we can look forward to an ever increasing part being played by the Board of Lay Activities in the Life of the Mission and in the service of God in the State of Hawaii.

Respectfully submitted,
LLOYD A. CLOSE, President

BOARD OF PENSIONS

The Board of Pensions of the Hawaii Mission was organized for the first time following the 1959 Session of the Mission. The Board has been making a study of the pension program of the Mission during the past two years. The Hawaii Mission Ministers Pension Plan was set up in 1951, jointly by action of the Hawaii Mission, the Division of National Missions, and by the General Board of Pensions. No changes or improvements have been made to the program since 1951.

In order to effect certain improvements in the Plan and to provide more adequate benefits, the Mission Board of Pensions presents the following resolution for consideration and adoption by the Hawaii Mission:

Resolved:

1. That, in accordance with Article VI of the Hawaii Mission Ministers Pension Plan, the Hawaii Mission hereby request the Division of National Missions and the General Board of Pensions to join the Hawaii Mission in amending the Hawaii Mission Ministers Pension Plan as follows:

- A. The "average salary", as set forth in Article IV, B-3, shall be designated as being $3500 upon the basis of which contributions of the ministers and the contributions of the Mission, on behalf of each minister who is a qualified member of the Ministers Reserve Pension Fund, shall be determined.
 - B. Beginning with the Conference year 1962-63 the annuity rate for Conference claimants who are not members of the Ministers Reserve Pension Fund shall be $35 per year of service.
 - C. For the purpose of this pension program a layman serving full-time in the Hawaii Mission, with the approval of and under the direction of the Division of National Missions, shall be eligible for membership in the Ministers Reserve Pension Fund.
2. That the Hawaii Mission hereby authorize a contribution of $50 per annum to the service annuity account of each member of the Hawaii Mission, who is a member of the Ministers Reserve Pension Fund, in addition to that provided by the regular contribution as set forth in the Hawaii Mission Ministers Pension Plan as amended. (The regular plan provided an annual contribution by the Mission of an amount equal to 10% of $3000. If amended, as requested, there will be an annual contribution of 10% of $3500 for each member. To this there would be added $50 each year.)
 3. That the Hawaii Mission include in its budget for the Conference year 1961-62 the amounts required to meet these obligations.
 4. That during the conference year 1961 the Mission Board of Pensions be authorized and instructed to study the "Optional Death Benefit" program and the new "Hospitalization and Medical Expense Benefit" program of the General Board of Pensions of The Methodist Church with the view of making recommendations at the Annual Meeting of 1962.

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN SOCIAL CONCERNS

The big event for the year for the Commission on Christian Social Concerns was the Conference on Labor-Management Relations and The Church, held Thursday through Sunday, October 20-23, 1960.

The leadership for the Conference included not only a large number of key persons from business and labor interests in the local community, but also the following persons from the mainland: Dr. A. Dudley Ward and the Rev. Emerson W. Smith from the General Board of Christian Social Concerns of The Methodist Church; Mr. John A. Despol, General Vice-President of the California State A.F.L.-C.I.O.; and Mr. Edward Maher, Vice-President of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Nearly all of the ministers of the Hawaii Mission and a large number of laymen from all of our churches attended and participated in the Conference. A total of 185 persons were present for the opening dinner meeting, with a grand total of 791 at all the sessions put together. Average attendance was around 113 for each session.

It was generally felt by all that the Conference was not only of benefit to those who attended but also that it stimulated a great deal of interest and concern throughout the community. Laymen and ministers returning to their individual churches indicated a revitalized interest in the witness of The Methodist Church within the total context of man's economic and social life. New insights into the impact of the Gospel upon the moral life of man in every area of his concern gave new appreciation for the meaningfulness of the local church and its work in attempts to deal with concrete and specific problems in human relations.

Appreciation is extended to all those who helped to make this a worthwhile Conference.

RECOMMENDATIONS

First, that ministers and lay people in our churches write to the President of the United States and to the U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations pleading with them to continue discussions aimed toward world disarmament no matter how difficult and trying the task may be, and to keep in mind that in case a conference breaks down the only alternative left is the renewal of negotiations and never a renewal of arms race, which can only lead to mutual suicide.

Second, that members of our churches put themselves on record as being unalterably opposed to parimutuel betting and write to their legislators urging them to defeat any bill that might be introduced in the coming session of the Legislature to legalize gambling in any of its forms.

Third, that a letter of commendation be sent from this Annual Meeting to the Rev. Lloyd A. Foreman of New Orleans, Louisiana, and to members of the Official Board of St. Mark's Methodist Church for their courageous stand against those who would prevent racial desegregation at William Frantz Elementary School.

Fourth, that we work closely with the purposes of the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii by introducing students of other lands to the cultural and religious life of our island communities through personal contacts.

Fifth, that a letter be sent from this Annual Meeting to the President of the United States and to the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations urging them to take whatever steps are necessary to make information regarding birth control methods available through our federal government to individuals and governments of other lands who seek this help.

Sixth, that a letter be sent from this Annual Meeting to members of the State Legislature urging them to defeat any bill in favor of capital punishment that might be presented in the coming session of the Legislature.

Seventh, that a study be made of "The Toledo Plan" for improving labor-management relations and a report be presented to the Annual Meeting in 1962 outlining whether or not the "Plan" is applicable to our Hawaiian situation.

Eighth, that letters be written to key persons in both the House and the Senate of our State Legislature urging them to adopt laws making the issuance of driving licenses a privilege and not a right, and thus imposing conditions requiring a person to submit to a sobriety test, requiring that the person who refuses to do so must forfeit the privilege of driving.

Ninth, that a year's subscription to "Contact" be given to the public library on each of our islands and also to the Library of the University of Hawaii.

Tenth, that the Commission on Christian Social Concerns be allowed $300 for its 1961 program.

Eleventh, that letters be written to key persons in both House and Senate of our Legislature urging establishment of a permanent Commission on Aging for the State of Hawaii.

COMMISSION ON EDUCATION

The Quadrennial Emphasis for 1960-64 is "Jesus Christ Is Lord". This calls for both study and proclamation. It is at the heart of any program of education that seeks to describe itself as being Christian. We have sought to keep this basic in our thinking, in our plans, and in our program, yet we are aware that there may have been times when we have become engrossed in activities and have overlooked Him whom we seek to serve. We report on what we believe we have accomplished during the past year; we project proposals for the year ahead; and we present recommendations for the action of the Annual Meeting.

AUDIO-VISUAL COMMITTEE—THE REVEREND DAVID J. HARADA, chairman

A new loose-leaf catalog of audio-visuals was organized during the year with the distribution date set for the 1961 Annual Meeting. More than thirty filmstrips were added to the library during the year. The Board of Directors of the Wesley Foundation, with the assistance of Mr. James McGiffin, secured a print of the new film about Wesley Foundations, "The Church at the Campus", for use in the Mission for a limited period prior to sending it on to Alaska and Puerto Rico.

CAMP AND INSTITUTE COMMITTEE—
THE REVEREND BEN F. YOUNGBLOOD, chairman

"Religion is a personal thing" was the evaluation of one of the 425 campers during the 1960 season of resident camps. He found this to be true as he related himself to the others who participated in camp life. "We were special guests because everyone treated us like they would treat their best friend" was the way a "physically handicapped" camper summed it up.

Hawaii camp experiences provided for:

- Seniors — 80 camper days for 20 campers with 4 leaders
- C. A. — 35 camper days for 7 campers with 4 leaders
- Juniors — 55 camper days for 11 campers with 5 leaders.

Kauai camp experiences provided for:

- Seniors — 60 camper days for 15 campers with 7 leaders
- C. A. — 65 camper days for 13 campers with 4 leaders
- Juniors — 70 camper days for 14 campers with 4 leaders.

Maui camp experiences combined for Juniors and C. A. for:

- 42 camper days for 14 campers with 3 leaders.

Oahu held two sessions for each age group at Kailani with:

- Seniors — 861 camper days for 123 campers with 23 leaders
- C. A. — 576 camper days for 96 campers with 22 leaders
- Juniors — 410 camper days for 82 campers with 20 leaders.

The Grand Total camp participation for the Hawaii Mission in 1960 was 2154 camper days for 425 campers with 96 leaders.

The chairman of the committee, Ben Youngblood, attended a National Council of Churches regional training camp for leaders in wilderness camping in Oregon during September.

We recognize that this is only the beginning in serving the full potential of camping in the Christian experience and growth of the Mission. Goals for the year ahead are set toward the inclusion of family camp and wilderness camp experiences, Holy Week camps for high school youth, and special training sessions for deans and camp staff. Only as we broaden the types of programs offered to include the interests and needs of a greater number of people can we expect to reach them for the Church and its Lord.

CHRISTIAN VOCATIONS COMMITTEE—THE REVEREND JAMES B. FRIESE, chairman

Copies of 1961 Methodist Service Projects, and Counselor's Guide to Methodist Schools and Colleges were mailed to counselors in public high schools throughout the State and to the ministers in the Hawaii Mission. On April 23, a Christian Conference on Vocations was held at Palolo Community Methodist Church. Thirty-nine young people participated.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING COMMITTEE—MRS. DONALD KINCH, chairman

Accomplishments during 1960:

- a. Supported the Honolulu Council of Churches Vacation Church School Workshop held at First Methodist Church; seven Methodist churches were represented by 25 students and six staff members. Nineteen churches in the Mission held Vacation Church Schools with a total enrollment of 991.
 - b. Held a Laboratory School at First Church, Honolulu, from August 22-26; 24 attended, with 18 individuals from 12 churches receiving certificates; each of the 4 instructors were certified by the General Board of Education.
 - c. Planned the Oahu Christian Workers' School which was held weekly at First Korean Church on five evenings commencing on September 12; 67 were enrolled, with an average attendance of 51, and 59 receiving certificates; the six instructors were certified by the General Board of Education.
 - d. The Director of Christian Education and Youth Work of the Mission held observation schools in 6 local churches during the year.
- Plans for 1961:

- a. Cooperate with the Honolulu Council of Churches in their Vacation Church School Workshop; with the suggestion that a section be added for Day Camping.
- b. Two Laboratory Schools, covering nursery through junior departments, be held at Aiea—July 30 to August 4; Parker Memorial—August 13 to 18. The budget provides one half of the round trip fare for one person from each church on Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui to attend one of the Schools. It is recommended that a Lab School be held on the island of Hawaii in 1962.
- c. The Oahu Christian Workers' School be held on Monday evenings from September 11 to October 23; with special evenings for commission on education chairmen and church school administrators and a preview of Fall quarter units, including stress on the use of the new intermediate materials. A section for older youth is recommended.
- d. Summer Service team training will include required attendance at the Vacation Church School Workshop, at an overnight session for training in crafts and activities, game leadership, and music, and at a third session on worship and MYF organization. Each team member be asked to observe Sunday school from mid-May to mid-June.
- e. A fellowship of youth workers be formed.
- f. Budget provision has been made for travel assistance for supplementary leadership for training projects on Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui.

SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE—THE REVEREND WARREN THOMAS, chairman

The Division of National Missions granted eight scholarships in the amount of $300 each. Martin Luna, Kauai, received a Cokesbury Award; and Annette Isaki, Harris Memorial, and Hiroshi Minami, Kauai, were awarded Crusade Scholarships.

Following extensive correspondence with the Division of National Missions Scholarship Committee, a more definitive set of principles and standards was developed for Division Scholarships. This includes:

1. Scholarships may be granted to selected young people
 - a. Who have made a commitment for full-time Christian services
 - b. Or who are children of missionaries employed full-time by the Division of National Missions
 - c. Or who may render special services to the Division.
2. Preference shall be given to students of exceptional ability and promise of service to the church.
3. The grant must be needed to enable the student to meet academic expenses for the year.
4. The student must be an active member of The Methodist Church.
5. Scholarships shall be for study in Methodist-related institutions with the exception of the University of Hawaii.
6. All applications must be channeled through the Hawaii Mission Scholarship Committee.

With this set of standards and the instructions to be more strict in considering applications it appears that in the future fewer young people in Hawaii will qualify for Division scholarships.

SUMMER SERVICE PROJECTS COMMITTEE—

DONALD PLUCKNETT, 59-60, THE REVEREND RICHARD PETERSON, 60-61, chairmen

a. Eighteen youth and four counselors were active in the 1960 inter-island summer service project which sent four teams to Naalehu-Pahala, Lahaina, Honolulu-Puukoli, and Waimanalo. Their activities were varied: youth activities weeks were held at five churches; several vacation church schools were staffed; one team planted trees; and another group surveyed Waimanalo and saw the first Methodist Church service held before they left the community. The teams served their churches for a two-week period. They were trained at the Honolulu Council of Churches vacation church school workshop and at an over-night training session at Kailani. Individuals serving on former projects served on the committee and produced an excellent guide book for participants in the project.

b. The Methodist Student Movement sent a work camp team of nine students from seven states under the direction of the Reverend and Mrs. Maynard L. Rich, San Marcos, Texas, to Hawaii from June 17 to July 22, 1960. Their major project was the construction of a shower house at Camp Kokee on Kauai.

c. A work team of 17 young people and 3 adults from First Church Pasadena, California, spent three weeks in Hawaii during July dividing their time between Kahaluu, Palolo, and visiting neighbor islands. They worked with members of the churches in making major improvements to existing facilities.

d. Plans are under way for the summer of 1961 which will include:

1. Inter-island summer service project teams.
2. A work camp from the Virginia Conference which will work at Kailani and Waipio.
3. A team of four youth and an adult counselor from Hawaii to Southern California-Arizona Conference for a six week period.
4. A national Young Adult travel seminar from the mainland June 26 to July 6, 1961.

YOUTH WORK COMMITTEE—Miss MARTHA ALMON, chairman

This committee coordinated the activities of intermediate, high school, and older youth after recommending that separate programs be carried on for each age grouping. Out of this experience a plan of reorganization for the committee was developed and is being referred to those who will compose the committee during the coming year.

The delegation to the Hawaii White House Conference on Children and Youth from the Hawaii Mission was selected by the committee. David Harada and Lewis Lancaster were named by the Mission Superintendent as official delegates; the other delegates were: Evelyn Aczon, Jason Ching, Marlene Mitsunaga, Aileen Nobu, Linda Yang, Martha Almon, Mrs. William Buford, Loreeda Jones, Margaret Murakami, Glen Murray, Jack Smith, and Ben Youngblood.

SIGNIFICANT HAPPENINGS

New Sunday Schools were started at Waimanalo in June and at Waipio in October.

A Committee on Education for the Big Island was formed in December with Mr. H. Suenobu, Hilo, elected chairman.

During November, Dr. John O. Gross, General Secretary, Division of Educational Institutions, Board of Education, and Dr. A. Hollis Edens, a former president of Duke University, conducted a preliminary inquiry into the advisability and feasibility of establishing a Methodist college in Hawaii.

APPRECIATION

We have been most appreciative of the manner in which our Director of Christian Education and Youth Work, the Reverend Lewis Lancaster, has taken hold of his responsibilities in the Mission. We have been pleased beyond our fondest hopes with his guidance, counsel, leadership, and inspiration. We are glad that he is with us.

We continue to be grateful for the support of the Division of National Missions, the help of James McGiffin, the assistance of the General Board of Education, the guidance of the superintendent of the Mission and his administrative assistant.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We recommend that:

1. The Commission on World Service and Finance be instructed to explore all ways possible to bring the salary of the Director of Christian Education and Youth Work of the Hawaii Mission to a figure they feel is commensurate with the responsibilities of the position.
2. The Board of Education study the role of religion and public education working toward the documentation of a basic Methodist position and strategy in Hawaii.
3. Church School Rally Day be observed on Sunday, September 24, 1961, and that the offering taken on that day be designated for the leadership training program of the Mission Board of Education.
4. A Pastors' School be held in the Hawaii Mission, with assistance in planning and leadership requested from the General Board of Education and the Division of National Missions.
5. Each local church Commission of Education study carefully the statement of the curriculum committee of the General Board of Education, "Foundations of Christian Teaching in Methodist Churches", and that the Mission Board of Education provide leadership for discussion where needed.

6. The following travel allowances be made:
 - a. one-half of the round trip fare be provided for one person from each church on Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui to attend one of the Laboratory Schools.
 - b. round trip travel assistance be provided for one supplementary leader to one training project on each of the islands of Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui, the project to be designated by the churches on the island involved.
7. That every local church explore all avenues to the full, in its educational program, to augment the quadrennial emphasis, "Jesus Christ Is Lord."

COMMENT:

"I believe that is the most complete and concise report I have ever heard in an annual conference,"—Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy.

HAWAII METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The officers of the Hawaii Methodist Youth Fellowship for 1960-61 were: Wayne Minami, President (until September 1), Jeanne Goya, President (from October); Lorinda Kimura, Vice-President; Lynn Zane, Corresponding Secretary; Marlene Mitsunaga, Recording Secretary; Evelyn Aczon, Treasurer; Jeanne Miyasaka, Faith Chairman (from October); Douglas Park, Witness Chairman; Wilma Kato, Outreach Chairman; Joyce Oshima, Citizenship Chairman; Howard Tanaka, Fellowship Chairman; The Reverend Robert Fiske, Advisor (until August) and Glen R. Murray, Advisor (from August). These officers were installed by Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy on Youth Day during the 1960 Annual Meeting of the Hawaii Mission of The Methodist Church.

The first big event of the summer came when four Summer Service teams were sent out, with nearly 20 youths participating. These teams went to Waimanalo, Oahu; Naalehu-Pahala, Hawaii; Lahaina and Honolua-Puukolii, Maui.

For the first time, two summer Institutes were held and were attended by about 120 senior high youths from churches throughout the Mission. The Reverend Sam Lee and the Reverend David Harada were the deans.

A Luau-Rally was held at Parker Memorial Church in mid-summer to honor the Summer Service teams from Hawaii and two visiting work teams from the Mainland—one a Methodist Student Movement team from all over the Mainland and the other a high school work team from Pasadena, California. Over 200 youths and adult leaders attended the Luau.

The fall rally, held at Camp Kailani in October, was served around service projects and the Methodist Youth Fund. We had several guest speakers come and give some ideas on service projects that could be performed by local churches. About 100 youths and leaders attended this rally. The profits from this rally went to the Camp Kailani Piano Fund.

On Sunday, January 8, nearly 200 youths and leaders gathered at First Methodist Church for a Missions Rally, with the theme "Into All The World Together." As a part of the program, they saw the movie "The Stepsitters," and heard from a panel of foreign students from the University of Hawaii. They also participated in several interesting workshops on audio-visuals, singing, and recreation.

This has been a busy and eventful year for the Methodist youth of Hawaii. It has included several changes in "midstream" for the Council, when two officers moved to the mainland and the advisor moved to the Island of Hawaii in August. In spite of these problems, the MYF in Hawaii has had a good year. The members of the Council wish to thank everyone who contributed so much time, effort and money to make each event a significant one for all of us.

Respectfully submitted,

JEANNE GOYA, President

GLEN R. MURRAY, Advisor

BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation, through its student members, its Director, and the Board of Directors, has the opportunity to witness for the Mind of Christ at the University of Hawaii, where the student body is largely ignorant of and unconcerned with the teachings of Christ. The Foundation is indeed a mission arm of The Methodist Church in Hawaii. The Board of Directors is mindful of this area of service and works with the Director in capitalizing on our opportunity. The Board meets monthly, except during July and August, to maintain the property, to counsel with the Director in regard to student problems, to plan for the future, and to keep informed concerning the student program so as to better interpret the Foundation to the local churches.

Property: The Property Committee of the Board assumes the responsibility for maintaining the physical plant and keeping the building attractive as a student gathering place. The white house on Vancouver Drive is fully occupied. A caretaker for the building and grounds lives in the upstairs and the downstairs apartment is used by Mission personnel.

The Program: The Board at times feels that its program is not too well understood in the local churches of the Mission. It is in no way competing with any local church for students. It does, however, rely to a large extent on dedicated Christian students for leadership in the student program. Their opportunity for service is among the unchurched students on the campus. The Foundation is the coordinator of these activities. The local churches have all the credit for producing such fine Christian leaders.

One way that local churches can increase their understanding of the aims of the Foundation is through use of the film, "The Church at the Campus", which the Board recently helped purchase. This film is available through the Mission Office. It interprets the Wesley Foundation aims and program.

Summer School is big business at the University of Hawaii. The students are for the most part older and more diverse. In order to test the effectiveness of the Foundation in working with these students a summer program was tried. It was highly successful.

During the past year the Board has been exploring ways to make the facilities more widely available to the religious community around the University, without in any way interfering with the students' activities. We feel this is good public relations for the Foundation and The Methodist Church.

Scholarships: The scholarship fund administered by the Board is growing and as the local churches make it better known among the youth groups it will serve its function even better. During the year we have granted six scholarships to financially hard-pressed students who have demonstrated to the scholarship committee their need and potential ability as Christian leaders in their community.

Student Activities: Deputation teams were sent to Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui during the Easter vacation period to assist churches and to acquaint youths and adults with the purpose and program of Wesley Foundations. Two delegates, Linda Yang, president, and Paddy Lum, vice-president, attended the Methodist Student Movement regional leadership training conference at Lake Tahoe, California, and visited Methodist Churches and student centers in California.

Worship services were held every Wednesday from 12:30 to 1:00; supper meetings were held on Friday evenings; and study groups were scheduled at free hours during the week.

Appreciation: The Board of Directors and the students themselves realize that the Wesley Foundation exists only because of the interest and support of Methodists in Hawaii and throughout America. They are appreciative of this concern and will continue to endeavor to come up to the fondest hopes of the Hawaii Mission, the total church, and our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,
DONALD M. KINCH, Chairman
Board of Directors

ADDENDUM:

The Annual Meeting, by unanimous vote, expresses sincere appreciation to the Director, Bob McCullagh, for his fine leadership in developing the program at our Wesley Foundation.

COMMISSION ON MEMBERSHIP AND EVANGELISM

Both the 1956 and the 1960 Discipline through paragraph 1464 define our task thus: "The aim of evangelism is to bring all men into living, active fellowship with God through Jesus Christ as divine Saviour and through the regenerating power of the Holy Spirit; to gather them into the fellowship of the Church; to lead them to express their Christian discipleship in every area of human life that the Kingdom of God may be realized." These thoughts permeated our spirits during the year.

The first year of the "decade of the sixties" was a year that launched men, missions, and machines across untrodden paths. The year saw the General Board of Evangelism stand by for the count down of the "Decade of Dynamic Discipleship." It sent its broadening spokes of challenge across the whole of The Methodist Church. It was indeed an hour of supreme opportunity.

Having been made aware of the full implications of dedicated and disciplined discipleship early in February, the Mission Churches undertook a two week program of Evangelism. Laymen and ministers alike assumed responsibility in carrying out the task through personal visitation, study sessions, and preaching. A number of our churches saw the need for deepening the channels of faith that they might go forth to serve both God and man. Comments lifted out of the evaluation reports reveal the significance of the Pre-Lenten Mission. Some examples are as follows:

"The meetings met a real need and have led some twenty persons to express a desire to be a part of a group of visitors calling on behalf of Christ and the Church." "The timing of this program was excellent and the use of men of the Mission serves to strengthen 'the tie that binds' us to each other." "It is impossible to evaluate the effect of this week statistically. However, our people expressed their appreciation for the opportunity of having the experience of learning more about these various phases of church work."

The Season of Lent brought continued interest in the program of evangelism and personal commitment. It served as a season in which to compress the core of God's Good News into programs and preaching. Just as one struggles to pour the utmost meaning into the stark limits of a telegraphed message so did many of the Churches attempt to make every word count for good as they moved toward Easter Day and its glorious proclamation.

At the Mid-year Meeting the call went out that the days ahead should be days of continuous prayer, continuous Bible reading and study, continuous evangelistic witnessing, and continuous indoctrination of members in Christian and Methodist beliefs. Suggestions were offered as to how to carry out some of the above mentioned concerns: such as, churches were urged to follow monthly outlines found in The Methodist Story.

Detail consideration was also given to the matter of the 1961 Evangelistic Mission which is sponsored jointly by the Division of National Missions, the General Board of Evangelism, and the Hawaii Mission of The Methodist Church. As this report goes to press, plans are under way to carry out such a Mission beginning on April 28 and continuing until May 13. Dr. Lawrence Lacour has been designated as leader for the mission. Ideas expressed as to how "future missions" might be made more effective have been forwarded to those in charge of arrangements. Men will be coming from all parts of the Mainland and perhaps from Japan to help our churches with the tasks of the hour. It is with eager anticipation that we look forward to their coming. We are at one in prayer that the fruits of our combined efforts will be most satisfying.

As the new year begins, we encourage each church to look carefully at its program of evangelism. To help them in their planning we suggest that they:

1. FIND ways and means to reach the growing population of the fiftieth state.
2. FORMULATE procedures and programs which will help our "moving population" continue their effectiveness as churchmen regardless of where they live. The turnover is indeed great in many of our churches. This calls for an alert and vital program at all times.
3. FOCUS their attention upon the youths of their communities. It has been pointed out that 3 out of 4 youths under 23 years of age are outside the active life of the Church. It is estimated that by 1975 nearly one-half of our population will be youths. Such facts demand that we weigh, consider, and measure our opportunity of serving the youths of the State.
4. FASHION such vital programs within the local church that the inactive and indifferent members might be re-enlisted. Our members cannot mature spiritually without the vital participation in the life of the Church. The Church stands in need of every member and every member needs the Church. Concerted effort must be continually made until we are all one.

5. FEATURE dynamic Church School evangelism that the total family might be won. Let us keep in mind that 6 out of 10 persons who join The Methodist Church come up through the Church School. Parents and pre-school children are particularly sensitive to their need of God's love.

We must never forget that EVANGELISM IS THE CENTRAL PART OF OUR TASK. If some methods will not work, we must find others that will.

Respectfully submitted,
B. RHODES MARTIN, Chairman

COMMISSION ON MISSIONS

This report covers the period between January and December 1960. The month of January was a busy month with mission-wide studies and festivals. The theme of the study was "Africa-South of the Sahara". Dr. J. Wesley Hole on this occasion brought an informative and timely report of his personal observations on Africa.

The Advance Specials for this year was divided into three areas, apportioned equally among the different projects as follows: 1. To Mr. James Stevenson for the Lodja Project in the Belgian Congo under the Division of World Missions. 2. To the work of the Board for Christian Work in Santo Domingo of Republica Dominica under the Division of National Missions. 3. To the Hawaii Mission which was again equally divided among three churches namely, Kahuku, Kilohana, and Waianae.

Many of our churches have carried on the mission-wide study on alcohol. The book "Stumbling Block" by Douglas Jackson was used as the study book. Seven churches reported on the questionnaire sent out by this commission. Of the seven churches reporting, five churches reported having had one to four sessions on the study. One church reported "no study" and the other church reported that the study will be carried on in the spring of '61.

Two of our Mission churches namely, Harris and Parker, have taken up the project of the Refugee Resettlement under the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief. These churches will have a personal and satisfying experience of resettling two Indonesian families here in Hawaii.

The months of November and December have been busy for most of the churches in preparing for the 1961 festivals and studies on the ecumenical study "Into All the World Together".

During the early part of the year the Commission asked Rev. Jack Smith to write something to enhance missions giving. Most of the ministers have received the copy of his paper, "Some Thoughts on Missions Giving". I would like to pick out some very pertinent statements from his paper for this report.

"I sincerely believe that the strong churches are strong because they give to missions and not, as is so often assumed, that they give to missions because they are strong. If I am right in this assumption that the weak grow strong and strong grow stronger through missions giving, then missions giving is basic to our self-preservation, because conversely I believe that the stronger become just strong and the strong become weak and the weak become non-existent, if missions giving is ignored."

"Actually, churches are just like human beings (simply because they are made up of human beings) and the richer they get, the less they think they have. Worst of all, churches like individuals, tend to become self-centered when they are always on the receiving end and never on the giving end. Self-centeredness on the part of a church tends to cause it to forget that it is part of a world-wide fellowship and leads to a provincial, narrow outlook. This is utterly false to the Methodist way of thinking since we are a connectional church which claims that the world is our parish."

With these thoughts in mind we make these following recommendations:

1. That the Advance Specials have a goal of $3,000.
2. That more emphasis should be made on Missionary Education.
3. That the Church-wide study for 1961 be the Methodist Churches in South America for the adults, and the studies of the Inter-Denominational Christian Churches in Latin America be held for the children and youth of our churches.
4. That the money be sent and appropriations be made by the next commission to:

- a) Lodja Project in Africa as a Mission Advance Special.
- b) Partial support of the project conducted in Okinawa by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Arinaga who are products of our own Hawaii Mission.
- c) The offering received over and above expenses at the Mission Festival or studies in 1961-1962 be allocated to a project in South America.
5. That the local church Commission on Missions challenge youth to go into full-time Christian Service in the Mission field.

⁴ Non apportioned this year. Last year's funds are being obligated for this purpose. Commission suggests that the intent and purpose of the Alohaletter be reviewed by the Board on Missions and Church Extension and the Co-ordinating Council.

⁵ This represents one-fourth of the Jurisdictional Conference apportionment of $338.24. The balance is to be apportioned yearly during the quadrennium.

⁶ Commission recommends we apportion Episcopal Fund askings in accordance with the Discipline and as established by the Council on World Service and Finance to be "2% of the pastor(s) cash salary," paid by local churches.

⁷ To increase salary of Mission Director of Christian Education to $4,000 maximum for first term, the Commission recommends that this be assumed by the Division; but is apportioning it here if arrangements cannot be made by the Division of National Missions for the increase.

^a A goal for Advance Specials is set at $3,000, and shall be a recommended asking instead of being included in the apportionments.

COMMITTEE ON CAMP KAILANI

Our work this year has consisted mostly of making plans and preparing requests to the Division for capital improvements. These improvements are essential since the camp use is increasing each year.

As a financial report of the camping operation for the following year, the following figures are presented:

Total Income:	$5,003.82
1960 Funds	415.32
Individuals, camp use fees	3,565.50
Apportionments	1,023.00
Total Expenses Estimated:	$4,140.25

Low Lancaster prepared a report of camp use for the benefit of the committee both for planning and for evaluation. Some important features of this report are:

Greatest use: Picnics of individual families and church groups make up the largest number of persons using the camp.

Second: Overnight, week-end, vacation time retreats and conferences involve the second rank in number and the largest number of hours of camp use.

Third: Week-long summer camps of the Mission.

Fourth: Vacation for families in the guest cottages.

Numbers of persons using the camp in 1960 were: (1) Picnic groups averaged 25.1, (2) for overnight, retreat, and conferences an average group was 27 and (3) for summer camp operated by the Mission an average of 66 persons per week including staff.

In view of this report and also because money for a new fence has been authorized by the Division, it was decided to take a long look at our needs and prepare a master plan with current needs in mind. Permission has now been granted by the Division to retain Mr. Paul Jones to do the Master Plan for us. A list of needs, both long range and immediate, was also submitted at the time of request for the Master Plan revision.

In June of 1961, we are planning for the Virginia work-team which will work on the new fence under supervision of a qualified person. This will improve the appearance of the camp and also safeguard the property during summer camps.

A new salary schedule for the caretaker was adopted and approved by the committee in April, which allows for increases each year until 1965. In addition the job analysis for the caretaker was reviewed and sent to the Division.

We hope, our planning this year will help to produce a camp facility that will better serve the needs of our Mission and the community.

For their co-operation I wish to thank my committee.

DON PLUCKNETT, Chairman

COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE RELATIONS AND MINISTERIAL TRAINING

We recommend that James Terauchi and James Misajon be left on trial and proceed with the Conference course of study. They have been reminded of the provision of the Discipline regarding the course of study.

COMMITTEE ON MID-YEAR MEETING

The Mid-Year Meeting of the Hawaii Mission was held at Camp Kailani July 25-29, 1960. It was an excellent week with good weather throughout. Ninety-two persons attended, thirty-six of these being children.

We had the usual fine guidance of our superintendent, Dr. Komuro, for the business of the week. The resources offered us in the persons of Dr. James Shoemaker, economist of the Bank of Hawaii; Dr. Andrew Lind, sociologist of the University of Hawaii; and Dr. Calvin Holman, interim pastor at our Waianae Church, were excellent. The idea of the Commissions of the Mission meeting seemed to be fully accepted, with fuller attendance than 1959 and almost no conflict of interest (three persons) due to meeting on two nights. The committee is not in full accord as to whether the Commission meetings ought to be continued, but feel that this should be determined by the nature of the Mid-Year Meeting.

It seems the time has come to take another objective look at Mid-Year. What is it? What is its purpose? What, if anything, should be accomplished? A request by this committee for information of this kind brought only one response. This probably indicates a mild acceptance by the group of things "as they are."

As chairman of Mid-Year I am personally in agreement with the one who responded, and others with whom I have talked. The Mid-Year Committee is also of the same mind. These, then, are our recommendations:

A careful study and discussion with our superintendent, the Mid-Year Committee should decide on the basic purpose of Mid-Year. If it is a time of real fellowship and relaxation for the families of the Mission, steps should be taken to eliminate all but essential "Official Business." All speakers should be concentrated on worship and family living. Ample attention should be given to creative family experiences, and these should be directed and planned rather than being left wholly to chance.

On the other hand, if Mid-Year is to be a time of study we should investigate the cost, and the willingness of the Mission family to bear such cost, of having a theologian or preacher of real stature to come and lead us in a pastor's school type of meeting. This type of thing should involve several hours per day of lecture and discussion to enlarge our thinking and clear the cobwebs from our conceptions of God and our task.

In any suggestion which might be made concerning the conduct of Mid-Year, ample consideration must be given to the cost. Is the Mission family willing (and able) to bear additional costs for obtaining program material of their choice, or are we to remain dependent upon the Division for funds? In the intellectual and deeply spiritual aspects of life, good meat costs proportionately as much as good meat for the table.

Any consideration of Mid-Year must also take into consideration the problem of housing. If new buildings are not to be built in the near future, then some thought should be given to screening and painting at least two of the old cabins for the use of families. Housing worked out smoothly this year, with a number of families on furlough. As the staff increases and the personnel are in the State during Mid-Year, the problem will become acute. For real fellowship and to accomplish any real "togetherness," we should all be housed at the camp. At the present this would be impossible.

Mid-Year is an essential part of the Mission's life. This is especially true in terms of the total fellowship between workers on all islands. This does not excuse our using it in any off-hand or wasteful manner. Either it is a time of real challenge, and thus the business of the church, or it is truly a "vacation" to be used for fun, real Christian fellowship, and sincere worship.

RICHARD H. PETERSON, Chairman

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES OF HONOLULU, INCORPORATED

GENERAL PROGRESS

On August 1, 1959, Goodwill Industries of Honolulu, Incorporated, opened its doors for business at 1111 Nuuanu Avenue. It occupied a location with less than 2,000 square feet. About a year later, October 2, 1960, with the help of the members of the Young Adult Fellowship and the Wesley Club of First Methodist Church, the Young Adult Fellowship of First Korean Methodist Church, and the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Aklersgate Methodist Church, it moved into its new location at 1128 Nuuanu Avenue. This two-story building provides slightly under 15,000 square feet. It opened its doors to do business October 3, 1960.

A definite increase in activities was apparent in the last three months of the year in the new location. The number of employees increased from two to four full-time employees, and three part-time workers, and two volunteer workers. Calls for "pick up" services increased two-fold. Publicity over the radio stations and in the newspapers provided a better understanding of the "NOT CHARITY BUT A CHANCE" program of the Goodwill Industries. Sales increased almost three-fold.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS

A word should be made about the volunteer workers. Mrs. Ann Bracken gave three months of five days a week service to the Goodwill Industries. Mrs. Frances Wilson gave at least one day a week service in sorting, window decorations, and pricing.

SERVICES RENDERED BY COMMUNITY GROUPS

The Kahaluu Methodist Church Summer School undertook to help Goodwill Industries. It contributed all its special project income to Goodwill.

The Cub Scouts of Aina Haina undertook to help Goodwill in distributing empty bags and collecting filled ones . . . in this manner helped Goodwill to secure workable materials for Goodwill employees.

The Welcome Wagon has done much to help distribute bags to new residents of various areas of Honolulu and of Kailua.

The Methodist Churches on Oahu helped by acting as collection centers where people brought donations to Goodwill. Goodwill Industries of Honolulu, Incorporated, appreciates the patience and co-operation of the pastors of the respective churches.

The radio stations on Oahu and the newspapers published in Honolulu have been most generous in bringing Goodwill before the people.

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Mr. B. K. Murphy succeeded Dr. Leslie Sayre as President of the Board of Directors. Mr. Murphy has visited several Goodwill Industries on the Mainland. His interest and enthusiasm has helped in the advancement of the local Goodwill program.

HAWAII PACIFIC HOMES

The year 1960 has been one of much activity in the office of Hawaii Pacific Homes.

With approval of the preliminary plans by the Board of Trustees, brochures, scale models, radio and newspaper publicity were prepared pointing to a "report to the community" meeting at the Mabel Smyth Auditorium in Honolulu on March 22. Speakers for the event were our own Bishop Kennedy, the Episcopal Bishop Kennedy, various representatives of the churches and the Governor's and Mayor's offices. The response was excellent. Contacts that night and follow-ups later have resulted in many applications for membership in Pohai Nani.

At this time, the architect has completed final working plans and is writing the specifications, which are to be completed by January 1, 1961.

We have submitted exhibits to the Federal Housing Administration and they are making a feasibility study. Since this is an entirely new type of financing to the local FHA office, it is proceeding cautiously, but it has indicated a real interest in the project. Two brokers have approached us, also, and they are interested in financing the development without going through FHA. We are exploring all possibilities.

The enrollment of members is continuing. Because this is a new concept in Hawaii for retirement living and due to the time factor, more education and promotion is required than for similar projects on the Mainland. The community, through grants, has contributed $20,000 this year for this purpose.

Too much credit cannot be given to Pacific Homes Corporation of California for assuming the direction of the project under the leadership of Dr. Edward P. O'Rear, General Manager of Pacific Homes. The advice and guidance given and the underwriting of the financial obligations by Pacific Homes has made it possible for Pohai Nani to be much nearer a reality than it could have been under other circumstances.

The Administrator was privileged to make two trips to the Mainland on behalf of Pohai Nani. One was to attend the National Association of Hospitals and Homes of The Methodist Church; the other was for the purpose of interviewing prospective members and this, too, included the Administrator's attendance at the Western Workshop for Administrators of Methodist Homes. From the viewpoint of the Administrator, both were highly successful.

SUSANNAH WESLEY COMMUNITY CENTER

Susannah Wesley Community Center opened its doors to the Kalihi-Waena Community on July 5, 1960, with Miss Genevieve C. Poppe as Director and Miss Beatrice Orrell, Children's Worker. Both of these women are deaconesses in The Methodist Church. The program started with the first two or three children who came to play in the yard. They were invited to a picnic and six came; the next picnic twelve came; and so the playground grew. In August, playground equipment was erected, this included slide, swings, jungle gym, and parallel bars. An indoor playroom was also opened. This type of activity continued through September.

In the meantime the Local Board of Susannah Wesley Community Center, under the direction of Mrs. Loren Steiner, held monthly meetings, formulated its by-laws, added new members, and re-organized. Under the Board's direction and that of the Director, community needs are being studied, the program planned and evaluated.

In October the Staff began to organize club groups for the boys and girls. This took time and interpretation, since such groups are new to the children. At present four club groups have been started, and hold regular meetings. (A club for boys and one for girls at the 4th, 5th and 6th grade level; and one for boys and one for girls at the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade level.) The activities in these clubs center around crafts, cooking, sewing, outdoor activities and other interests as expressed by the children.

The older girls helped give a Halloween party for the neighborhood youngsters. The older boys and girls prepared and presented a Christmas program for their parents. This program was attended by 16 adults.

The playground is open every afternoon and on Saturday, and the game room is open several afternoons a week and on Saturday.

In October two basic English classes were started under the able direction of Mrs. Pauline Hale and Mrs. Agnes Peterson. During the first semester while we were organizing and getting students, the Center assumed the salaries of these teachers. This second semester with 24 students enrolled the D.P.I. has taken over the salaries. The students are loud in their praise of the teachers and their lessons. A coffee break is enjoyed each session giving extra practice in speaking English. Young mothers bring their small children and Miss Orrell takes charge of them during the class session.

In studying the needs of the community it seemed that we could be of service by establishing a part time nursery school for 3 and 4 year olds, meeting a half day five days a week. However, we met a set back due to the fact that our building did not pass inspection; and we were denied a variance. This endeavor will have to wait until a later date.

Statistically we have a definite enrollment of 58 individuals in clubs and classes. We have about 60 different boys and girls using our playground and game room facilities. In our first seven months we have had an aggregate attendance of 4,500.

At present we are interested in the proposed recommendation for the rehabilitation of the Kalihi-Waena Community. This comes from City Planning Commission and calls for a program of improvement and repair to save this section of the city from becoming a slum area. We are also interested in reaching out to serve the young mothers in the Community. A summer program is being planned which includes a Vacation Bible School, supervised playground and a Day Camp.

One of our families recently moved to the mainland. Four of their seven children participated in our program and played on the playground. Before they left the mother told Miss Orrell that she hoped that when they reached Stockton there would be a Susannah Wesley Community Center for the boys. We hope in the coming months that we can bring Susannah Wesley Community Center and its program to more of the people in our Community.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE

This fourteenth year of the Woman's Society of Christian Service has been one of general reorganization. With Hawaii becoming the new 50th State, the women's group seemed more involved; and we felt the wisdom of reviewing our By-Laws and adjusting them to fit the new times. Irene Butterworth, Toki Akamine, and I worked to put down in writing the responsibilities of the officers and the scope of the work, as well as general aids for running the business of the State organization.

There has been a closer fellowship with the Neighbor Islands which we pray will lead to a greater oneness in His work and a wider spreading of His vision. In the spring, April 22nd, Chicko Inter went to Kauai; and I was invited to the spring rally, May 14th, at Honokaa, Hawaii. For the first time definite attempts were made to train officers on the Neighbor Islands. Helen Smith and I went to Kauai the first week-end of October to hold a retreat at Kokee. In November, Irene Butterworth and Daryl Sharratt made the rounds of Hawaii and Maui. Not only have our executive officers gone to the Islands, but we have been fortunate in having had 14 representatives from the Neighbor Islands to various State-sponsored functions. So you see there has been definite growth in the participation of the Neighbor Islands. We are appreciative of this and are looking forward to a time when we can financially afford to have them as representatives on our Executive Committee. This year we partially solved the problem by having Executive meetings prior to the Officers Training Day after Woman's Day and during the School of Missions.

Our calls to attend meetings on the Mainland has brought a proportionately increased response. Gladys Meeker, who has served us long and faithfully as Literature Secretary, was asked to attend a meeting in San Francisco in March when they considered the closing of the offices there. She was unable to go, so Irene Butterworth who was to take over the Literature Secretaryship was sent. The Western Jurisdiction underwrote the sending of one of our officers to the Western Jurisdiction Executive Meeting as well as the School of Missions. Our own Executive Committee felt the training of such a School was unsurpassed, and so underwrote the sending of the second officer, Helen Smith, the newly-elected Missionary Education Secretary, and I went and gained a wealth of knowledge through the experience of others.

Daryl Sharratt, our Vice-President and Program Chairman, reports that at our Woman's Day gathering in March, 138 women, including Mrs. Marie Duke from Hilo; Mrs. Kou Tamura and Mrs. Kaneko Nakamura from Lahaina; and Mrs. Manuel from Kauai, heard Dr. W. Vernon Middleton speak on "Which Way Today." Our own Annual Meeting was held at Kailua on May 7th with approximately 95 in attendance. At this meeting the women pledged themselves to raising $5,000 for worldwide missions. The Rev. B. Rhodes Martin spoke on "What is That in Thine Hand" and the following officers were installed: President, Mary Komuro; Recording Secretary, Jeannine McCullagh; Missionary Education, Helen Smith; Student, Joyce Fiske; Literature and Publications, Irene Butterworth; Missionary Personnel, Yoshie Tsukayama; and Spiritual Life, Muriel Onishi. However, with the resignation of Joyce Fiske and Yoshie Tsukayama, we were forced to make shifts in our Executive Committee: Recording Secretary, Mary Davis; Student Secretary, Jeannine McCullagh; and Missionary Personnel, Marguerite McCloskey.

Our Promotion Secretary, Alice Kern, was especially elated over the large turn-out we had for Officers Training. Sessions were held at Aiea with 80 in attendance, including Mrs. Galiza, Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Olson and Miss Kakimoto from Hawaii; Mrs. Wagonner from Maui; and Mrs. Valenciano from Kauai. This, plus the officers clinics held on afternoons during the School of Missions, made for some very definite training of local officers. She reports 582 members as of December. Things are moving along in Palolo and Kahuku, and we are in hopes of being able to include them in our fellowship before another year passes. We are sorry to report the disbanding of our one Wesleyan Service Guild at First Methodist Church, leaving us with only 18 active societies and no Wesley Service Guild.

The School of Missions this year, held August 1-5 at First Church, had 63 registered with 37 getting jurisdictional credit; 17 in "Basic Christian Beliefs" taught by the Rev. Richard Peterson, and 20 in "Into All the World Together" taught by Mrs. Toki Akamine. The Rev. Peter Lee had the Bible hour. Things were very efficiently planned by our Dean, Yukie Wiles, and the School of Missions Committee. We were fortunate to have Mrs. Cha and Mrs. Ranne from Hawaii; Mrs. Taylor from Maui; and Mrs. Vea from Kauai. Helen Smith reports 8 classes on Africa with 145 members; 3 on Luke with 33 members; 1 on Town and Country work; a church-wide study with 60 members; 1 on United Nations with 24 members. These classes have met efficiency standards with 4 of them receiving Jurisdictional recognition.

Our second Spiritual Life Retreat, held at Kahaluu July 23rd from 9:30 to 2:00 p.m. with the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, had 28 women from 8 churches in attendance. This is an increase of 4 women and two churches over last year, which though small does indicate some growth. Muriel Onishi has worked tirelessly to deepen our spiritual roots which must be the basis of all our work.

Miss Jessie Koontz reports that more Children's Secretaries are attending training classes and working more directly with the children.

Nathalie Keff reports that the women have made a number of contributions to the Christian Social Relations program in the State and their communities. Noteworthy is the fact that more than 93% of the registered voters appeared at the polls. The women also cooperated actively with the Mission in their Labor-Management Relations Conference.

Mrs. Chieko Inter reports that although our supply askings for 1959-60 were $203.00, a sum of $207.36 was sent to the Western Jurisdiction.

This being the beginning of a new Quadrennium, there was delay in the publication of new handbooks, etc. However, our Literature Secretary, Irene Butterworth, reports our total sales were $345.64. This means almost all of the money went into study and program books, which would indicate some serious studying is going on.

Our Missionary Personnel Secretary, Mrs. McCloskey, feels the urgency of making young women aware of the future in Christian vocations. This is a great area in which the ministers and women must work together more closely to help fill that big gap in youth entering church work. This past year the women, especially those in Kailua, helped by collecting savings stamps to send Joan Takara to National College in Kansas City. The Kailua WSCS, with the generous help of friends, paid her tuition. On April 23rd, in cooperation with the Committee on Christian Vocations, a Christian Vocations dinner was held at Palolo Church for 40 Methodist young people and leaders.

Martha Almon has worked with the youth, and those working with youth have done much to advance the work of the Youth Secretary.

One of the firsts for this year was our offer to meet Crusade Scholars who were passing through Honolulu. Jeannine McCullagh, Student Secretary, made arrangements for two churches to host four students, with enjoyable results. We are hopeful that we may reach more students in the months ahead. The women continue to do a fine piece of work at the Armed Services YMCA providing hospitality hours, church transportation, and assisting with the annual Thanksgiving dinner.

As we look back over the year we feel great strides forward have been made, but much of this is due to the financial aid we have received both from the Division and the Western Jurisdiction. They have consistently backed us in all our efforts, and we only hope that we can prove worthy of their deep interest and concern.

Because our own year runs from June to May, this report may be somewhat disjointed and may not be a truly accurate picture. To all the Executive Committee members, especially those who left us in June, Emiko Abe and Gladys Meeker, and those who will be leaving us this year, Jessie Koontz, Nathalie Keff and Martha Almon, I want to express my personal appreciation for their tireless efforts and support. To the hosts of local officers and women who have worked long hours without pay and often without thanks, I want to express my appreciation for helping make this year a step forward.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY O. KOMURO, President

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

As we come to the conclusion of this, our 56th Annual Session of the Hawaii Mission, we are reminded of lines penned by Longfellow—

“Lives of great men all remind us we can make our lives sublime

And, departing, leave behind us footsteps on the sands of time.”

Looking back over our days of deliberation both here in the Conference sessions and in the days of preparation prior to the meeting, we are aware that many footprints have been trod on the sands of our time. We, of this committee, feel that an expression of gratitude is in order for the creators of some of these footprints—not necessarily those with the largest feet—but those who, by the nature of their services have made lasting, indelible marks.

To Bishop Kennedy for his messages of inspiration and for the stimulation of his leadership—and to Mrs. Kennedy for her example of faithful attendance and untiring good will.

To our impressive group of Division officials, Dr. Snoke, Dr. Calkins, Dr. Gross, Jim McGiffin, Dr. Murphy, and Dr. Rice for patient and sympathetic listening to our diverse problems, and for challenging us with their constructive criticism. We are grateful too, for the fellowship we have enjoyed with Mrs. Snoke and Mrs. Calkins.

To our own Harry and Yuki for the continual manifestation of their interest, love, and concern for their “Mission Family”.

To Jim Misajon for hours spent untangling our figuring, and getting it all in the right column in the reports.

To Frank Butterworth and his committee for their good work in planning Annual Meeting, in spite of the problems involved in the feeding of five hundred people. They were doubtless inspired by the fact that our Lord had served five thousand on one occasion, under even more trying circumstances.

To Sam Lee and First Korean Church, and to Frank Butterworth and First Methodist Church for their warm hospitality.

To our loyal office staff, Arlene Kobashigawa and Cynthia Hatico, for all the extra typing, phoning, and attention to details—and for smiling through it all.

To the Honolulu newspapers for the very excellent press coverage, both written and photographic, that has been given our auspicious efforts.

To our committees, commissions and their chairmen whose reports have enlightened us as to our progress, and reminded us of how far we have yet to go.

To Mrs. Duke Cho Choy for her organ meditations which helped to prepare us each day for dealing with the affairs of the Kingdom.

To the women of First Korean Church for recognizing that Methodists do indeed honor their stomachs, and providing us with coffee and buns.

To Dick Peterson and Walter Jordan for arranging transportation and housing for all those who participated in the ingathering from our other islands.

To Dr. Tate for his scholarly interpretation of the problems confronting us as we seek to educate our youth for the facing of precarious times—and our best wishes to him for a perfect football team next year—win or lose.

To those loyal delegates, both lay and ministerial, who have left home, business and family, and traveled many miles to participate in these meetings. They have undoubtedly impaired their circulation by sitting for such lengthy intervals, and yet they have turned their best interest and the wisdom of their minds to the business of our Lord.

And finally, to the Board of Missions for their loyal support, and for allowing us the privilege of serving our Lord in this wonderful spot in God's creation. We express our fondest Aloha to Martha Almon, Harold and Myra Singer, Jack and Betty Jo Hedges, who will soon terminate their services here. Our lives have been enriched by their presence in our midst, and we pray God's richest blessings on them as they turn to other fields of service.

Having looked back upon our footprints that have been made in the culmination of this meeting, we are aware that some of them might have seemed trivial and unnecessary to us, and yet we cannot escape the conclusion that this has been a time of inspiration and rededication for all of us.

So, returning to the words of the poet—

"Let us then, be up and doing, with a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, and still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait."

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN SMITH, Chairman
